

Nixon Seeking Bipartisan Help On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today for $2.6 billion in foreign aid—some $900 million more than was voted last year—saying the sum is "necessary to meet essential requirements now."

"Foreign aid must be viewed as an integral part of our overall effort to achieve a world order of peace and justice," Nixon said in sending up his first foreign aid program.

The $2.6 billion includes $2.2 billion for U.S. economic assistance to developing countries around the world, $375 million for arms aid abroad and $75 million to help start a public corporation to promote private investment in developing lands.

The Nixon program for the new fiscal year, starting July 1, is about $63 million below what former President Lyndon B. Johnson had proposed.

"This request for foreign economic and military assistance is the lowest proposed since the program began" after World War II, Nixon said, "but it is about $900 million more than was appropriated last year" when Congress lopped nearly $1.2 billion off Johnson's program.

Nixon called in both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders Tuesday for a White House meeting on his program. Last year the lawmakers dismayed the executive branch by slashing nearly $1.2 billion from President Johnson's request.

Administration officials said Nixon has decided on only moderate changes in the Agency for International Development—AID—the organization set up by the Kennedy administration at the start of the decade to run the aid program.

The administration sources look for more changes in Nixon's next aid program next year after the special committee has completed its study.

Pat Paulsen In Fitness Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Comedian Pat Paulsen says in a newspaper advertisement that he will row a boat on Memorial Day from Chicago to Sturgis, Mich., "to illustrate the necessity of physical fitness."

Sturgis is approximately 60 miles east of Lake Michigan's eastern shore.

Paulsen said in the advertisement which appeared Monday in The Chicago Sun-Times, "I figure the only way to turn people on to physical fitness is to show you the peace that having a perfect body has brought me."

Paulsen appeared several times during the election campaign on the Smothers Brothers Television Show (CBS) and announced his candidacy for president under the banner of the S.T.A.G. party.

Paulsen, the advertisement said, will row from the Monroe Street Harbor in Chicago to Sturgis.

S. Korea Opposing U.S. Withdrawal

SEOUL (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam and President Chung Hee Park of South Korea agreed today to oppose any unilateral withdrawal of allied troops—meaning Americans—from Vietnam.

Thieu, on a state visit to South Korea, met for 2½ hours with Park.

A spokesman for Park said the chiefs of state discussed strategy for Thieu's meeting with President Nixon on Midway Island next month and reviewed U.S. and Viet Cong peace proposals.

Space Officials Defend Program

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Even as the United States stands at the threshold of man's greatest technological feat—a moon landing—space agency officials continue to find themselves having to defend the program's existence.

Critics say the billions of dollars that are paying the route from earth to moon are more urgently needed on earth to combat a host of domestic problems.

But defenders point to a long list of material benefits from space research, including:

—A sensor that counts meteorite hits on a spacecraft is the basis of an instrument that, by measuring muscle tremors, may help to detect early signs of neurological ailments such as Parkinson's disease.

—A technique used to clarify spacecraft photos of Mars and the moon by putting TV signals through a computer is being refined to clarify medical X-rays.

—Electronic sensors used to keep tabs on astronauts in space have been adapted to continuously monitor the pulse, respiration, temperature and blood pressure of heart patients.

—A switch operated simply by eye movements was developed for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and has been adapted for use in a motorized wheelchair. It enables a paraplegic to control the chair without moving his body.

—A tiny FM radio transmitter developed by NASA to radio electrocardiograms from astronauts and other subjects being tested in centrifuges is being used on infants in hospitals. If the infant stops breathing for 10 seconds, it sounds a buzzer so a nurse can rush to the child for emergency care.

—By modifying astronauts' space helmets, researchers have designed a device which, when placed over the head of a patient, measures oxygen consumption.

—A technique for spraying a solution on an astronaut's chest to hold lead wires for recording heartbeats is being used on patients in hospitals or being transported by ambulance.

In nonmedical fields, an electromagnetic hammer that smooths weld seams without weakening metal, invented for building the Saturn 5 man-to-moon rocket, is being tested in shipyards, airplane factories and automobile plants.

—Important savings have been realized in industrial space and dollars by computer advances. They have been scaled down un-

Senate Resolution:

Parochialism Review By Ed Commission

LANSING (AP) — A resolution directing the education study commission to review the question of parochialism and its financial implications is expected to be introduced in the Senate Thursday after upper chamber Republicans hold a breakfast meeting with Gov. William G. Milliken.

The resolution directing the commission to include aid to nonpublic schools was circulated among senators Tuesday.

Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, said "15 or 16" senators signed the resolution.

Introduction of the resolution reportedly was timed to coincide with the first formal meeting of the commission named by Milliken to completely revise the system of financing education.

The commission, Milliken said, will hold its first meeting Thursday.

Not Public Policy

The resolution reportedly does not declare parochialism to be considered a matter of public policy. Instead, it merely asks the commission to review the question and its financial implications, sources said.

However, one Democratic senator reportedly has contacted the governor's office about amending the resolution to include specific language declaring parochialism to be a matter of legislative intent.

Earlier, Milliken called on the Legislature to inform the commission through a resolution or bill whether parochialism will become a matter of public policy.

Secretary Of State Spreading Word

U.S. Cutting Asian Involvements

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers is spreading the word across Asia that the U.S. government is cutting its involvement abroad and intends to have no more Vietnamese.

While he has also given assurances that treaty commitments will be kept, Rogers has begun detaching the United States from the conflicts of Asia and promoting a substitute policy of regional self-reliance.

It is a big swing away from the policies which led the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations step by step into the Vietnam war.

Reports To Nixon

Rogers, winding up his first foreign venture in personal diplomacy, will report to President Nixon this weekend that the initial steps in disengagement have, on the whole, been met with enthusiastic approval by the leaders he has talked to.

Associates credit much of his success to Rogers' style of personal diplomacy—easy, relaxed, and low-keyed, the manner of the highly successful corporate lawyer confidently working over problems with his clients.

The chief danger is that with his friendly deskside manner, the secretary may have given the impression of more support than he intended to foreign leaders seeking sympathy for their special causes.

Sympathetic

President Yahya Khan of Pakistan said Rogers was sympathetic to his request that the United States resume the sale of tanks, artillery, planes and other arms to his country. Rogers thought he was being diplomatically noncommittal.

Asian leaders, who tend to be formally polite, haven't seen a diplomat quite like Rogers before. Although they evidently liked him, they will watch closely now to see what action the United States takes. By this, they can measure the extent of his influence with President Nixon.

Yorty Winner In Massive Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sam Yorty, the underdog, rode a massive outpouring of votes to a third term as mayor of the nation's third most populous city today, defeating Thomas Bradley, his Negro challenger.

Jubilant over his comeback, the mayor told cheering supporters they had brought him "back from what appeared to be certain defeat." He pledged to make Los Angeles "a greater city in the coming four years."

Supporters of Bradley said they had lodged a complaint with the state attorney general's office over a "candidates card" widely distributed in areas where the city's 15 to 20 per cent Negro population lives.

They claimed the card said Bradley votes should be made on hole No. 3 of the punchcard-computer ballot. If voters did so, they would have voted for Yorty.

Bradley, a city councilman who had hoped to become the city's first Negro mayor, won the April primary by 100,000 votes.

But his hopes in the nonpartisan runoff were dashed by the biggest voter turnout in city history—an 80 per cent vote that far exceeded the 66 per cent balloting in the primary.

For Yorty, the heavy vote meant that voters in the predominantly white areas went to the polls in big numbers.

Bradley had run well in the white sections in finishing ahead of Yorty in the primary. But public opinion polls—which consistently placed him ahead of the mayor—said he had lost support in white areas.

Bradley refused to concede defeat, even though he was far behind and less than one per cent of the vote had not been counted.

Then he made a quiet appeal at a rally, asking his supporters to remain calm after a campaign in which he was accused by Yorty of surrounding himself with black militants.

"Keep the faith with what we've been trying to do," he said. He added, "Leave in an orderly fashion, please."

With all but six of the 2,890 precincts reported, the vote was Yorty 447,030, or 53 per cent; Bradley 392,379, or 47 per cent.

Vietnam 'Conflict' Totals Hundred-Billion-Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietnam is fast becoming a hundred-billion-dollar war.

Government figures show the 1970 defense budget will add $25.4 billion to officially admitted expenses dating back to 1965, raising the price of the conflict to $108.2 billion.

Hidden or indirect costs probably add hundreds of millions to the real expense of the war, although the scope of these items is sometimes difficult to assess because of official secrecy.

For example the American government is doling out millions in economic assistance to reinforce such Vietnam border countries as Thailand and Laos which could sway the balance of power in the area.

Assistance

The Pentagon budget lumps admitted Vietnam war costs under a category entitled "Estimated Special Support for Southeast Asia Operations."

This covers the acknowledged

U.S. expenses of maintaining dozens of ships, hundreds of planes and helicopters and 634,000 military personnel in and off Vietnam and outlying areas; certain military assistance in the way of weapons and equipment to not only Vietnam but also Thailand and Laos; and outright grants of foodstuffs and other materials to Vietnam which have totaled over $1 billion since 1965.

The Southeast Asia category does not, however, fully reflect some other war-related expenses such as construction of the Thai-owned airfield near Sattahip, Thailand, which the United States built in 1965 to handle KC135 tankers and B52 bombers flying missions into Laos and South Vietnam. This base cost well over $150 million.

Korea $18 Billion

The general financial bookkeeping for the war back to fiscal 1965, which began in mid-1964, reads this way:

In 1965—$103 million; 1966, $6,094 billion; 1967, $20,557 billion; 1968, $26,839 billion; 1969, $29,192 billion; and, proposed for fiscal 1970, $25.4 billion.

The U.S. cost for fighting the 37-month Korean War was about $18 billion. The American cost for World War II ran about $250 million a day.

The figures for the current war include economic aid to Vietnam ranging from $282 million to $424 million during the war years.

The budget figures no longer show, however, the old Military Assistance Program costs for Vietnam. MAP expenses were absorbed in the defense budget in 1967 when they were running around $600 million per year.

Officials say this rate has tripled, or by about $1.8 billion. This pays for guns, ammunition and other military equipment the United States is turning over to Saigon.

No Tactical Reason To Stay On Mountain

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers pulled off the crest of Dong Ap Bia today and began sweeping west and south along the slopes and approaches to the mountain. The U.S. Command said North Vietnamese forces on the mountain had been beaten and "there's no tactical reason to stay there."

"We feel we've gotten everything out of this mountain that we're going to get," one officer said.

The 3,000-foot mountain was taken a week ago after 10 days of infantry assaults and retreats up and down the slopes.

The American casualties—50 killed and 300 wounded—brought criticism from Sen. Edward Kennedy and some other members of Congress who apparently did not think that the 600 North Vietnamese reported killed justified the American losses.

A spokesman for the U.S. 101st Airborne Division said the paratroopers had "completed their search of the mountain and now are continuing their reconnaissance-in-force mission."

Two battalions—about 800 Americans—were reported sweeping southward and westward. One battalion was maneuvering down a draw leading off Dong Ap Bia within 1,000 yards of the Laotian border.

"We were not going after the hill, but after the enemy's forces," a spokesman for the U.S. Command said. "We've now defeated his forces. There wouldn't be any reason to stay on after defeating him on the hill."

"We're going to look for him wherever his forces are and defeat him in the most expeditious manner. We seek him out wherever he is. It all hinges on seeking out the enemy wherever he is. That's the key point."

U.S. officers said there was no indication that the North Vietnamese were returning to Dong Ap Bia in force "or plan to do so." But some enemy forces were still in the area. Tuesday night, a dozen mortar rounds hit the paratroopers before they began withdrawing and wounded three of them slightly.

There have been other costly hill fights in the war, and when they were over the Americans usually abandoned the hills.

Probably the most memorable was in November 1967 for Hill 875 near Dak To, in the central highlands. In that 17-day battle, 287 paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were killed and 1,000 were wounded. The Americans claimed 1,641 North Vietnamese were killed.

Spokesmen emphasized that the operation which produced the battle for Dong Ap Bia—Operation Apache Snow—is continuing in and around the A Shau Valley, the North Vietnamese stronghold which the mountain overlooks.

Plan Parade, Rites For Memorial Day

The observance of Memorial Day in the area will include rites at the graves of deceased comrades conducted by members of the veterans organizations, parades and programs sponsored by the Veterans Council.

Memorial Day (Friday) will also be the occasion for some of the start of a long holiday weekend—including trips and tours on crowded highways.

Law enforcement authorities are calling upon motorists to be especially careful this weekend; and add a warning to recreation-bound boaters to be cautious on bays, lakes and rivers at this early season. Traffic deaths and drownings will top the list of holiday weekend casualties.

At Bark River the Memorial Day program will be held at the Cemetery beginning at 11 a. m. with a flag raising and opening ceremony conducted by John Krause and Francis Derocher.

Participating will be Commander Willard Severinsen; the Rev. Thomas P. Dunleavy, St. George's Church; Bark River-Harris School Band; Chaplain Philip Norman, roll call; Miss Kerry Langlois, patriotic reading; and the Rev. R. L. Solberg, pastor, Central Methodist Church, speaker.

The Junior Auxiliary will place the wreath on the grave of the Unknown Soldier; Mrs.

Pat Foley

Katherine Larson, president, will direct the American Legion Auxiliary program; the Rev. C. Beckingham, Salem Lutheran Church, will give benediction; the honor guard commanded by Bernard Kleinman will give the rifle salute; and taps will be sounded by Dennis Sundquist.

The services in Escanaba are arranged by the Veterans Council and will include visitation of local cemeteries by the Veterans Honor Guard at 7 a. m. Veterans are to meet at the VFW Hall and all veterans are invited.

A parade down Ludington St. is scheduled for 9:30 a. m. beginning at the Junior High School and proceeding to the Municipal Dock.

Participating will be veterans, members of the Auxiliaries, Gold Star Mothers, Boy and Girl Scouts, Escanaba High School Marching Band, Escanaba City Band, Holy Name High School Band, and other groups.

At 11 a. m. at Gardens of Rest Cemetery, where the avenue of 160 flags honoring deceased veterans will again be displayed, there will be a program at which the speakers will be Pat Foley, Past Department Commander of Michigan, Veterans of Foreign Wars; and Neomi Pohl, president, Ladies Auxiliary, Department of Michigan, VFW.

Col. James T. Wren of Escanaba will be master of ceremonies. The invocation will be by Fr. Norbert Freiburger and the benediction by the Rev. Erland Carlson.

No Leads In Lindberg Killing

DETROIT (AP) — Intensive questioning of witnesses and a detailed search of the Detroit apartment building where State Trooper Carl Lindberg was slain Monday night have revealed no new leads, police reported today.

The 22-year-old Lindberg, whose parents live in rural Iron Mountain, was shot down as he tried to stop a robbery in the apartment building where he lived.

Authorities said a total of 27 detectives—12 from the Detroit police homicide bureau and 15 from the State Police, have been assigned to the case.

Police said they believe the robbery-murder was committed by a two-man team of professional burglars. One is described as a heavyset 50-year-old white man and the other as a slightly-built "hippie type" in his 20's.

Lindberg's body is being taken to Iron Mountain for burial Thursday. A graduate of Kingsford High School and a former Kingsford city policeman, he was married and the father of a nine-month-old daughter.

Mack Gets Amendment Against Doe Season

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Joe Mack, D-Ironwood, has moved a step closer to his longtime ambition to outlaw the killing of antlerless and doe deer in the Upper Peninsula.

In the upper chamber Tuesday, Mack successfully amended a bill to prohibit the Natural Resources Commission from declaring an open season on antlerless bucks and doe deer in the Upper Peninsula.

The bill passed the upper chamber by a vote of 30-3 and was sent to the House where sources predicted it would find tough sledding.

Group To Draft Pollution Law

William Taylor of Ford River Tuesday night was named chairman of a committee to draft a model set of county anti-pollution ordinances for the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air.

Other members of the ordinance committee are Jerome Stannard, John Gustafson, Bob Crawford and Amer Pederson. Pederson is president of the overall group.

A preliminary report on the ordinance will be made next week, Taylor indicated.

The "Save Our Air" group was formed after Mead Corp. announced plans to construct a kraft (sulfate) pulp mill for its new publishing papers center at the Escanaba Paper Co. and concern over possible odor problems from the planned pulp mill was voiced in the community.

The anti-pollution ordinance, the committee indicated will be among the most progressive in the country. Pederson said that if Mead Corp.'s promises of an odor-free mill are true the company should have no objections to the program.

When completed, the ordinance will be submitted to the County Board of Supervisors for consideration. At the meeting Tuesday night, Ray Sabucco, finance chairman, reported $625 has been collected this week to finance the committee work. Jean Worth, community consultant for Mead Corp., attended the session.

Next meeting of the total group will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, June 4, at the Civic Center. The public is invited.

Rotary Enjoys Camera Safari To East Africa

Safari with camera through East Africa was presented to the Escanaba Rotary Club by Ronald Stephenson of Cedarburg, Wis., Tuesday noon at the House of Ludington.

Stephenson was introduced by Elmer Pipkorn of the Rotary Club and Dr. Richard Rinehart, club president, conducted the meeting.

The next meeting of the Rotary Club will be on Wednesday, June 4, when the club will host honor students and their parents, Dr. Rinehart announced.

Stephenson illustrated his commentary with color slides of the safari through Uganda and Kenya, including glimpses of modern cities like Nairobi contrasted to the primitive living conditions of the natives a few miles distant. His photos of wild animals in national parks of the region were frequently spectacular.

His talk was perceptive, delightfully humorous, and sympathetic to the program of development underway in the East African countries he visited.

City Income Tax?

New Revenue Plan Studied By Council

Presently, one-third of the population of Michigan is paying a city income tax, and Escanaba City Manager George Harvey is suggesting to the Council that it consider such a tax to increase revenues for municipal operations here.

The manager's suggestion is made as the result of deliberations on the means and methods with which to operate municipal services.

"As you know, several communities have adopted such a source of revenue and it has resulted in a 'savior' so to speak of many of the larger municipal operations," said Harvey.

"In some instances, enactment of this income tax has been coupled with a reduction in the property tax."

Non-Residents Also
(Escanaba's city property tax has been $14.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation and will increase to $16.50 this year. The hike will appear on the July tax bills.)

Harvey said that he is using the idea of a reduction in property tax as "my approach in examining an income tax structure."

"Under the law, a municipality is allowed to assess a 1% tax on the income of its residents and one-half of 1% on residents who work in the city," the city manager reported.

Detroit was the first Michigan city to enact an income tax after it was provided for by the Michigan legislature several years ago.

New Revenues
"The State Legislature adopted a state law for a uniform tax to prevent inequitable application of the income tax to those people who lived in one community and worked in another," said Harvey.

"Every community that has adopted the income tax needed a new source of revenue. Fees and service charges are not enough to satisfy the need for more money. Increased property taxes are not the answer because, in my opinion, it is difficult to base our needs on this particular tax."

The experience of Michigan cities with income tax has been satisfactory and now one-third of the state's population is paying a city income tax.

Replaces Property Tax
"In Saginaw, for example, they took in $3,376,000 last year, or $34 per capita. Income tax collection costs vary from 2 to 5 per cent of collections. The costs are higher in smaller cities," the city manager said.

"In the opinion of Ed Pot-hoff, Saginaw's city manager, the income tax did not affect the decision of a business to locate within the community. Saginaw promised a full 4 mill reduction in real estate taxes in the event the income tax was instituted. Now, the income tax revenue exceeds the revenue from real estate taxes."

"Saginaw reports that senior citizens favored the tax and there was no organized opposition to the income tax in that city," Harvey reported.

The reduction in property tax in Saginaw was done as promised. General Motors, largest employer in Saginaw, approved of the income tax also.

Immediate Study
Lapeer also has an income tax in effect and revenues equal approximately 10 mills of property taxes. Industries are not discouraged, but rather Lapeer has expanded one existing industry and attracted three new industries since the income tax went into effect.

Harvey said that he is asking Escanaba City Controller Milton Embs to continue the investigation of the income tax plan and its application to Escanaba, since it "appears that 6 to 9 months should be allowed to properly prepare for such an innovation."

"If an ordinance for an income tax is to become effective Jan. 1, 1970, we would have to have the ordinance enacted not later than Aug. 1, 1969," Harvey reported.

The information is therefore to be assembled so that it may be done this summer "should the City Council desire to give serious consideration to the income tax," the city manager said.

Police Chief Graduates:

President Nixon Awards Diploma At White House

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announces that Escanaba Police Chief Richard J. Frederick is among graduates today of the 83rd Session of the FBI National Academy at exercises held in the East Room of the White House this afternoon.

Mrs. Frederick is in Washington today to be with her husband for the ceremony, and they will return to Escanaba this weekend.

Hoover said the ceremony was transferred from its traditional location in the Departmental auditorium of the National Academy to the East Room of the Executive Mansion at the specific request of President Nixon.

Today's graduation is the first ever to be held in the White House in the Academy's 34-year history.

The 100 outstanding officers who comprise the graduating class will be addressed by the President, Attorney General Mitchell and Superintendent James T. McGuire, Illinois State Police, Springfield, Ill., president of the graduating class. President Nixon and Hoover will award the graduates their diplomas, and Dr. Edward B. Lewis of the Capitol Hill Methodist Church,

Washington, D. C., will deliver the invocation.

Hoover said today's graduates represent 44 states, the District of Columbia, the White House Police, United States Army and the United States Air Force, as well as Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, Canada, Jamaica, Malaysia, and Thailand. As a class, their careers in law enforcement total some 1300 years.

Having completed the demanding course of instruction offered at the "West Point of Law Enforcement," as the National Academy has often been called, they now join an elite alumni of more than 5,000 prior graduates, more than 27 per cent of whom still active in law enforcement presently head their departments.

Hoover, commenting on today's history-making event, noted, "The President's decision to honor these top-flight career police officers with ceremonies in the Executive Mansion is most gratifying to all of us in law enforcement and is illustrative of the kind of emphasis which is so necessary if we are to achieve a corps of highly trained professional law enforcement officers. With crime continuing to spiral, comprehensive, detailed, and up-to-date training is essential to insure effective law enforcement."

Paul H. Stoddard, special agent in charge of the Detroit Office of the FBI, said citizens of the Escanaba area have reason to be proud of Chief Frederick for his successful completion of the FBI National Academy course.

Sheriff Harold O. Finman, Delta County, is a previous graduate of the FBI National Academy from this area.

Exciting Project

State Sen. Charles Youngblood, Detroit Democrat who is one-quarter Chippewa Indian, last week announced an interesting and unusual plan to convert the ghost town of Pequaming in Baraga County into an industrial center for the 8,000 or more Indians in the Upper Peninsula. The senator said a non-profit corporation called the Pequaming Service Foundation has solicited pledges totaling $750,000 to operate the center. He added that Dow Chemical Co. and the DeWitt Lewis plastics firm have made commitments to build plants in Pequaming. "Initially, there are plans to provide jobs for at least 2,400 Indians," Youngblood said. "We believe this will support a population of about 4,000 at the outset."

It is perfectly fitting that Pequaming, which has been molding on the shores of Keweenaw Bay for many years, should be brought back to life as an Indian settlement, for the site was first settled by Chippewa Indian tribes.

Ever since then Pequaming has had a colorful history in which its present status as a bona fide ghost town is merely the latest chapter.

Charles Hebbard leased the site from the Chippewas in 1877 and built a sawmill there the next year. Around the mill he founded a community that was patterned after a village in rural England. When David King, the Chippewa chief, died, Hebbard purchased the Pequaming townsite from the chief's heirs. In the late 1880s, his mill employed as many as 240 persons, not to mention another 400 who worked in the woods to provide logs for the mill.

Henry Ford bought the 890-acre Pequaming tract from Hebbard in 1923 as a source for wood that was then used in great quantities in the manufacture of car bodies. Ford built a new sawmill there and established what he regarded as a model school system. He is reported to have spent many hours relaxing in a rocking chair on the Doric-pillared porch of the gracious 14-room lodge at Pequaming.

But in 1942, operations of the Ford mill were discontinued. Changes in car body design reduced the demand for wood, and the Pequaming mill was shut down, as were other Ford mills in the Big Bay and L'Anse areas. Entire families were forced to move from Pequaming as men went elsewhere in search of employment. The 75 homes and cottages were boarded up, along with the church, power plant, village hall, general store, recreation center and guest house.

In the early 1950s, Lawrence Walsh, an Ontonagon attorney, and his associates purchased the Pequaming site from the Ford Motor Co. They operated a resort there, and in 1956 the Kitchigami School of Arts was opened in Pequaming. Both were short-lived, however. Walsh tried unsuccessfully to find other uses for the property. At one time he hoped to persuade the state to acquire the land for use as a treatment center for alcoholism. But nothing materialized, and the ghost town remained a ghost town.

As late as last year, a group of individuals explored the possibility of acquiring the land and selling lots there for an exclusive summer colony, but this plan also failed to materialize.

Now comes Sen. Youngblood's exciting plan to purchase the Pequaming village and convert it into an industrial community for the Upper Peninsula's long-neglected Indians. The senator said development plans call for refurbishing some of the old buildings and constructing more homes. Besides the homes and plants to be located in Pequaming, the reborn city would have a harbor development, shopping center, nursing home and an orphanage for Indians.

It's an ambitious proposal and just about the first large-scale plan to help all of the Indians of Upper Michigan. We wish Sen. Youngblood well in this great venture of mercy.

Peninsula Potpourri

Gogebic County's dog problem is politically alive and kicking despite efforts to bury it prematurely. Ironwood City Manager Kenneth E. Long said that although the county board has elected to abandon the dog control program in the county, the city expects the county to reimburse it for expenses incurred in the municipal dog control program as required by law. He indicated that if the county fails to comply, the city will take the case to court.

Rudyard High School students have sent 32 bathing suits to men of the 25th Infantry Division in Vietnam. Money raised by Rudyard students in a project to send gifts to servicemen in Vietnam was used to buy the suits after the soldiers reported they didn't have suits to enjoy a motel swimming pool during rest and recovery periods.

It may look dark for Keweenaw County economically because of the problems at the Calumet & Hecla copper mines, but highways in the county are among the "brightest" in the nation. Many of the roads in the county are speckled with copper, the result of using low grade copper ore taken from the mines for highway construction projects. "Some of the Keweenaw Peninsula routes literally are paved with native copper from the deep mines of the area," said John Jackson, chief engineer of the Keweenaw County Road Commission.

James L. Dompierre, former exalted ruler of the Negaunee Elks lodge, was elected president of the Michigan Elks association at its 65th annual convention in Kalamazoo. Dompierre, only the eighth Upper Peninsulan to head the state organization, is employed as an accountant for the Empire Iron Mining Co. He is a former chairman of the Marquette county board, on which he has served since 1951.

Students are using bricks in a demonstration at Lake Superior State college at Sault Ste. Marie. Bricks are being sold, not thrown. The bricks are being sold at $1 each to raise money for the students' share of a $1 million student center on the campus. The students hope to raise $15,000.

American Business Likes South Africa

By JOHN P. McGOFF
President, Panax Corp.

A visiting American driving from General Jan Smuts Airport to the center of Johannesburg could feel he had never left home. Visible along the way are the signs of United States involvement in South Africa.

There is one startling contrast between our two nations, each of which has a race problem. At a time of tension and violence in U.S. cities, everything here seems calm on the surface. There is almost no quick evidence for visitors of trouble between South Africa's black majority and the white minority that governs.

It's the similarities that impress visitors. The differences seem to be confined to disputes that go on between the two governments, not so much involving the people themselves. The Detroit-designed taxi that takes you into town passes through a large industrial area and many of its factories bear the names of well-known American companies. They make all sorts of things, agricultural equipment, earth moving machinery, vacuum cleaners, soft drinks, drugs, beer, soap flakes, each product tagged with a familiar American brand name.

Your taxi was assembled in South Africa, but it's a U.S. make and of the same model that can be seen on any American street. The gasoline in its tank is likely to come from a pump that bears a familiar American name.

Quick Tempo

Johannesburg is a young city, big and sprawling, a city that could be set down in the American Midwest and not look out of place. A building is quickly torn down and another of more modern design is put up in its place rapidly.

It's a city where life is lived at a quick pace. American business is big in South Africa. Henry Ford is reported here to have been selling cars in South Africa in 1905, although he didn't create the Model T until 1909. But where once the governments of the two countries were friends and allies, in recent years they've drifted away and seem to be moving ever farther apart.

Their differences rise from separate approaches to the great problem that they have in common, how to treat a variety of races and colors. The U.S. promotes a policy of racial integration, South Africa opposes it.

Races Separated

In South Africa racial separation, complete and total, is the way of life. This approach is backed by a system of legislation designed (if necessary) to force people of different races to live separately. It's this system of "apartheid" that draws the condemnation of the United States and many other countries.

The white people of South Africa numbering only 3 1/2 million (or 20%) firmly believe that the only way for them to keep their racial identity is to isolate themselves as far as is possible from the overwhelming number of the non-white majority. In the U.S. non-whites total around 11% of the population, in South Africa there are nearly 12 million blacks, plus nearly 2 million coloreds, or people of mixed blood, along with 500,000 Asians.

Only a handful of the 3 1/2 million whites believe that the best way for these races to co-exist is to integrate. It's obvious that for some time Washington has condemned the government of the Republic of South Africa. The U.S. usually votes solidly with the nations of black Africa when resolutions blasting South Africa are put forward at the United Nations.

Naval Embargo

The U.S. refuses to sell arms to South Africa on the grounds that the arms could be used to suppress the black population. The arms embargo extends even to equipment for the South African navy of 27 ships. It patrols 2,000 miles of strategic coast line at the southern tip of Africa. I visited with Admiral Terry-Lloyd who said, "Just how could we use our ships to keep black people suppressed? Even if we wanted to suppress them, which we don't."

DRAFT REFORM

I was a freshman Congressman in 1966, a group of us in the House worked to eliminate inequities, uncertainties, and inefficiencies in the Selective Service System. Our efforts generally met with frustration.

In 1968, Richard Nixon campaigned to work toward the goal of a volunteer army. Since his election, the President has directed the Department of Defense to create plans for transition to a volunteer army after the Vietnam war. He has also appointed an Advisory Commission on the All-Volunteer Armed Forces.

Fortunately, the President is not waiting until the end of the Vietnam war, however, to bring about some much-needed reform. He has proposed alterations in the Selective Service laws which would eliminate much of the uncertainty which surrounds young men until they are 26 years old. This constant uncertainty has been a disruptive influence in the lives of our youth. I believe that the President's proposals will eliminate some of the injustices of the system. He is suggesting drafting mainly from the 19 to 20 age group and determining by lot which registrants should be called first. Undergraduate deferments will be continued; however, the year of maximum vulnerability to the draft will come when the deferment expires.

The Nixon reforms will not eliminate all of the evils of the system, but they will reduce its inequity. I intend to give my full and active support to the President's plan. It is my understanding that the Chairmen of the House and Senate Armed Services Committees do not intend to oppose the plan, and this will contribute materially to the prospect of success.

Philip E. Ruppe
Congressman
Washington, D.C.

Sometime later in 1969, the people of West Irian, formerly Netherlands New Guinea, will determine if West Irian remains part of Indonesia or seeks independence.

And yet, he said, "The U.S. and Britain expect to be able to use the sea route around the Cape of Good Hope fully and freely, and they'll have difficulty doing that without our cooperation."

I also learned that Washington forbids any ship of the U.S. Navy to call at a South African port and yet in February a U.S. guided missile destroyer pulled into Port Elizabeth for an emergency operation on a young sailor with appendicitis. The South Africans welcomed them. Washington forbids any ship of the U.S. Navy to call at a South African port, finding alternatives to using the extensive facilities at Cape Town on the South Atlantic and Durban on the Indian Ocean for repairs and supplies.

The ban on South African ports came about as a result of the visit to Cape Town in February, 1967 of the U.S. aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt. After the citizens of Cape Town had organized extensive recreational facilities for the Roosevelt's crew, the U.S. State Department decided to cancel all shore leave because U.S. Negro sailors might have been subjected to South African racial separation laws.

Business Friendly

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Ferrara are the official hosts for many foreign visitors in Cape Town, and they indicated that the Roosevelt incident left a heritage of bitterness. South Africans say that the administration in Washington was trying to curry favor with American Negroes and with the black states of Africa by giving South Africa the cold shoulder. The U.S. wanted South Africa to grant more political rights to its non-whites.

You don't have to be here long to discover that American business takes a different attitude. Although American investment in this country amounts to only 1 per cent of total U.S. foreign investments, 28 per cent of all U.S. dollars invested in Africa have gone into South Africa.

Border Industries

The biggest selling auto in South Africa is an American compact, and the company that makes it is gearing up a new $35 million plant outside Pretoria. Its old plant at Cape Town could not keep up with the production demand. Another U.S. company is establishing a plant in one of South Africa's official border industry areas, at Rosslyn. It's contributing directly to the potential success of something that is officially abhorrent to our country.

Border industries are part and parcel of the program for racial segregation. Under this concept, industries are to be set up along the borders of African tribal reserves. The Africans then live in the reserves and commute to jobs in the border industries. In this way South Africa hopes to cut down on the number of Africans living and working in what are officially designated as areas for whites only.

U.S. business has come into South Africa not for ideological reasons, not because it approves or disapproves of racial segregation, but to make money and make money it does.

Opening lead—jack of spades. Declarer does not see how the adverse cards are divided, but in many hands he can force the defenders to disclose their exact distribution and in that way accomplish his mission.

Suppose you're South on this deal and West leads the jack of spades. As soon as dummy comes down you can count eleven sure tricks—three spades, two hearts, three diamonds and three clubs—but, obviously, there are many ways of acquiring a twelfth trick.

Thus, you might find the diamonds or clubs divided 3-3 and bring home the slam, or, failing that, you might guess the two-way heart finesse.

There is no way of knowing at trick one which way the wind will blow, so let's say you start out by cashing the A-K-Q of spades in an effort to learn how the suit is divided.

This proves to be revealing because East shows out on the third round, discarding a heart, and you therefore know that West started with five spades and East with two.

Continuing your voyage of discovery, you cash the A-K-Q of diamonds, hoping for a 3-3 division, but again East discards a heart on the third round and you learn that West started with four diamonds and East with two.

The process continues relentlessly when you now test your luck in clubs by cashing the K-A-Q in that order and find that West started with two clubs and, hence, five hearts.

By this time you know each defender's original distribution. West had five spades, four diamonds, two clubs, and, hence, two hearts; East had two spades, two diamonds, four clubs and, hence, five hearts. The rest is easy. You don't have to bother guessing the finesses in hearts: you simply throw East into the lead with a club, forcing him to return a heart and hand you the twelfth trick on a silver platter.

Teenagers Get Polley's Praise

LANSING (AP) — Two Battle Creek teen-agers have been praised by Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, for heroism following a school bus automobile accident east of Delton May 14.

Polley sent letters of congratulations to Penny Hagerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hagerman, of rural Battle Creek, and Richard Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gunn, of rural Delton.

Polley said the two 10th graders in the Delton-Kellogg School took quick action after fire broke out in both vehicles following the collision.

Offer Help To Kids That Are Neglected

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know how many little lives you might save if you informed your millions of readers that they need not stand by helpless while neighbors and relatives beat and neglect and abuse their children? Many cities and states have ordinances and laws to protect children against cruelty which is, of course, the result of sick minds. For God's sake, help those kids.

Here are the proper steps: (1) Take the child immediately to an impartial doctor or to a hospital for examination. Do not select your family doctor or a doctor who is a relative or a personal friend.

(2) If, after examination, the doctor says the child has been abused or criminally neglected, call a police officer and have the courage to sign a complaint if you are asked to do so.

(3) If the child is of school age, take Ann Landers' advice. A teacher can be an excellent witness.

These days so many people are afraid to become involved. They say it is dangerous to poke your nose into other people's business. Please tell them a helpless child is everybody's business. — L. A.

Dear L.A.: Bless you for your letter. Often people need encouragement to follow their better instincts. You have given it.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 19-year-old girl high school graduate. My fiancé will be joining the Air Force soon. Ron is 20 and in excellent health.

I was telling a friend that I become depressed thinking about Ron's being away from me. She said she had read somewhere that a couple can sign up for the Air Force under the Buddy System and do a full hitch without being separated. Is this true? If it is I'd like to do it. Please let me know immediately.—Love Him

Dear Love: I've checked around and learned that the Air Force will "try" but they give no guarantee that lovebirds who take their training together will be assigned to the same area for service. It might work out that way, but the Air Force promises nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for not saying anything against the young man who wore a kilt. His girl was shocked and her mother almost fainted, but they were ignorant people who didn't know anything about the kilt's great tradition of manhood and courage. Those of us who live in Racine, Wisconsin are proud of our Drum and Bugle Corps. They won the National V.F.W. Championship in 1964 and again in 1968.

It's a glorious sight to see those handsome lads marching along with their bagpipes, wearing kilts. Those of us who know, consider kilts not only snappy-looking but a darned sight more respectable than trousers that are so tight a kid can't sit down in them. Sign me — Highland Fling.

Dear High: I've seen the Racine Drum and Bugle Corps and they are as inspiring a group as ever tooted its way to the top. Cheers!

Salinger Got Illegal Donation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Brewing Co. was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of unlawfully contributing campaign funds in connection with the 1964 senatorial campaign of former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the indictment, returned in Baltimore, headquarters of the brewery, alleged the company violated a federal statute prohibiting corporate and labor union political campaign contributions in federal elections.

Specifically, it said National paid $5,000 to the Walter Leftwich Organization, a Beverly Hills Advertising Agency that represented Salinger in the 1964 California election.

Budget Revisions

State Capitol Funds May Get Eliminated

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature turned its undivided attention today to its annual tug-of-war over state expenditures for the coming fiscal year.

Both chambers were to meet at 10 a.m.

Committee revisions, particularly in the House, already have swelled Gov. William G. Milliken's $1.51 billion budget by an extra $11.7 million. The upper chamber appears to be more frugal.

In the Senate, minority leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley, said fights would develop over efforts to eliminate a $4 million appropriation for a new State Capitol.

The Capitol design revealed

several months ago has been criticized for its design which one member described as "oil tanks."

An amendment might also be attached to the state education bill to include token funds for parochial and private schools, Levin said.

Up U-M Budget
It also was expected that several members would attempt to increase the budget of the University of Michigan.

In action on four bills Tuesday, the House rubber-stamped a committee recommendation amounting to $115.9 million, but the Republican-controlled Senate was expected to be more critical.

Sen. Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, earlier said either the revised budget proposals must be cut or new taxes approved.

The House was expected to work today on a $22 million appropriation bill for the department of commerce, labor, licensing and regulation.

Contained in the bill were proposed higher taxes on aviation fuel, railroads and fleet trucking operations. Revenues from those taxes would exceed $100 million, legislators said, with the higher aviation fuel tax to generate an additional $5.3 million.

Aviation Tax
Several House members are bitterly opposed to the higher aviation tax.

Measures adopted Tuesday in the lower chamber provide funds for:

- State Police and National Guard, $34.7 million.
- Natural resources and agriculture departments, $24.4 million.
- Executive, legislative and judiciary branches, $56.1 million.

An amendment added to general government appropriations would require Secretary of State

James Hare to charge a fee of $2 per name for sale of the state's lengthy list of automobile owners.

State policy has been to sell parts of the lengthy list at various rates. The principal buyer, department sources indicated, has been a firm which pays a $60,000 flat fee, then resells portions of the list to direct-mail advertisers.

OK Salary Increases
The House also approved salary increases totaling some $490,000 for the departments of natural resources and agriculture.

Fish, wildlife and development funds would be unchanged from Milliken's recommendations, but House planners allowed an extra $115,000 for firefighting, waterway development and land management.

In action Tuesday, the Senate passed and sent to the House a state minimum wage bill providing for an increase to $1.40 an hour by Jan. 1, 1970.

The present minimum wage is $1.25 an hour.

The bill also provides for an increase in the minimum wage to $1.45 an hour on Jan. 1, 1971 and $1.50 by Jan. 1, 1972.

The vote in the Republican-controlled Senate was 20-16, the bare minimum needed for passage.

The bill now goes to the House, controlled by Democrats. House speaker William Ryan, D - Detroit, has said: "We'll try to get as much as we can."

Also passed and relayed to the House was a bill to permit issuance of resort liquor licenses to established golf courses. The courses must have been in operation at least two years. Miniature golf courses will not qualify.

A measure to limit the life of grand juries to two years lost by one vote. Backers won approval of reconsideration of the vote today, however.

A measure asking that Michigan join an interstate agreement on teacher qualifications was defeated.

JACK D. WICKLUND, 41, has been hired by the Bark River-Harris Schools to serve as elementary principal replacing the late William J. Constantineau. Mrs. Bernadette Arkins has been acting principal. Wicklund, a resident of Ironwood, received his B.S. degree from Northern Michigan University, M. A. from Eastern Michigan University and is presently working toward an advanced degree at Wayne State University. He previously taught at Crystal Falls and is presently teaching at Milford, said Superintendent Gerald G. Ritenburgh. Wicklund's wife, Jean will be teaching the first grade at the Bark River-Harris Schools. Their daughter Marsha, will be in the 8th grade.

Negro General Ends Viet Tour

SAIGON (AP)—Stocky, salt-tongued Frederic Ellis Davison is going home Wednesday, ending 18 months in Vietnam that made Army history. He became the first Negro general to command American infantrymen in combat.

An outspoken opponent of black militancy, unashamed to use so-called clichés such as "the American dream," Davison says:

"This has been my one big chance to make it come true and I did my best."

The 51-year-old general is proud that his 199th Light Infantry Brigade never had a man court-martialed for refusing combat. He is equally proud that no man, Negro or white, was ever left behind by his buddies during a firefight. The 4,500-man brigade lists only two men missing in action—a technicality because the bodies could not be recovered though the two were known to be dead.

This is the kind of detailed information Davison keeps up to date in a little notebook.

If you ask him an estimate of such and such an action, he will shoot back: "Hell, I can tell you exactly," and the notebook comes out of a pocket.

He has made a little welcoming speech to every group of replacements that has come into the brigade. The speech varies a bit, but always makes it unmistakably plain that race has no place in the Army.

Czechs Drink To 'Our Cosmonauts'

VYSOKA NAD KYSUCOU, Czechoslovakia (AP) — "They have returned to our planet. Let's drink to our cosmonauts... our cosmonauts," the husky Slovak said, raising a glass of brandy.

Imrich Cernan, cousin of American astronaut Eugene Cernan, proposed the toast in a darkened room full of Slovaks.

They were crowded around a television screen so small it needed a magnifying glass to enlarge the flickering image of Apollo 10 brought from the Pacific by satellite, Eurovision and Czechoslovak TV.

By "our cosmonauts" Imrich meant Eugene A. Cernan, Thomas P. Stafford and John W. Young.

Especially Cernan. The Navy commander is a hero to this town of his forebears and its citizens are hoping he will visit them.

Waiting for the astronauts to be fished out of the ocean, Imrich said: "They're sure to be drinking to each other's health right now. They've got a tape recorder and recordings and spaghetti in there, surely they must have a bottle of something to drink."

The three astronauts appeared clearly on the screen aboard the recovery ship Princeton a few minutes later. Children in the crowded room

Capt. Mahon Dies

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Wednesday (8 p.m.) for Capt. Thomas Mahon, a noted Great Lakes diver and mariner who died Sunday. He was 96. Mahon made his last dive at the age of 82 when a young diver refused to descend in Lake Macatawa near Holland to complete a cable hookup.

Persons who study pyramids theorize that Egyptian monarchs, wary of grave robbers and anxious to preserve their bodies, designed and built their pyramids to trick future generations into thinking the tombs already had been looted.

Quintuplets Mark 35th Birthday Today

MONTREAL (AP) — The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are 35 years old today but plan no special celebrations. They don't even plan to get together. "The sisters are not fussy about a celebration," explained Germain Allard, who is married to Annette and acts as an unofficial spokesman for her and her sisters Marie, Yvonne and Cecile.

Allard said also his three young sons are studying for their final examinations and "we feel that their exams are more important than celebrations."

Allard said the closest thing to a birthday party would be a "very intimate gathering" Saturday night at his home in suburban St. Bruno.

Cecile, now separated from her husband and living with her four children in Quebec City, doesn't plan to attend the gathering. But Yvonne, who is single, and Marie, also separated and living with her two daughters in Montreal, plan to be there, Allard said.

The fifth sister, Emilie, died during an epileptic seizure in 1954.

Father Of 11 Says Its Not Cheaper By Dozen

DETROIT (AP) — "Eighteen pork chops disappear in a hurry" at the Joseph Amico household which just welcomed its fourth set of twins and 11th child.

Amico, president of a Detroit drug and chemical firm, and his wife, became parents of twin daughters Sunday and they haven't yet named the new arrivals because they've run out of names.

"We've got Joel and Joanna, 9; Janet and James, 8; Valerie and Vanessa, 6," he said. "Besides that, we have Debra, 15; Lisa, 13, and Nikki, 10."

The family lives in a five-bedroom, four bathroom ranch in suburban Warren, and "getting ready for bed is what I imagine it's like to live in an Army barracks," says Lisa.

To feed such a large brood, Amico puts out about $100 weekly buying such things as 11 gallons of milk, 12 loaves of bread and so much meat he can't keep track.

"But I know 18 pork chops disappear in a hurry," he said, adding: "Regardless of what you hear they're not cheaper by the dozen. I'm thinking of buying by the case."

THEY'D DECIDED TO SETTLE

BORGER, Tex. (AP) — An unidentified Borger man correctly predicted in mid-March that striking employees of Phillips Petroleum Co. would be back on the job one midnight.

He said he knew the strike was over when he was in a grocery store and watched wives of working men on the midnight shift buying supplies for their husband's sandwiches.

MRS. VIAN AMICO holds twin daughters born in South Macomb, Mich. Hospital last Sunday. This is the fourth set of twins for the Joe Amicos with the new arrivals coming seven years after their third set of twins. The girls, who have not been named yet, bring the number of Amico children to eleven. Mr. Amico is president of a pharmaceuticals firm. (AP Wirephoto)

Putvin Asks Plan Revision

Property Owners Upset Over Off-Street Parking

By BARBARA JOHNSON

Opposing factions of the business community voiced their opinions on the proposed $146,000 off-street parking plan before City Council Monday night.

The sometimes heated "talk session" ended on an uncertain note with the property owners against the proposal considering a petition to Council stating their disapproval.

Parking Committee chairman Bill Putvin said he "was aware rumors were around" that he would benefit financially from the sale of his property to implement the plan and asked that the plans be revised to not include his property.

Instead Putvin requested that the plan include the acquisition of an 84 x 154 lot from Ernest Preuss on N. Maple Ave. which would provide 13,090 sq. ft. of space at $11,200.

Not Contacted

Putvin's property, 13,842 sq. ft. with a gravel base, had been tagged at an estimated acquisition price of $9,850.

The two pieces of property in question would both provide an access entrance from U. S. 2 for parking in the rear of S. Cedar St. bounded by Oak and Walnut Sts.

One property owner charged that he had not been contacted about the proposed assessment and that "most of the property owners don't know what the program is about."

He went on to say that he had canvassed some merchants and found that 16 were against the proposal and 21 for it. However, he qualified, some merchants that he hadn't been able to talk with were included in the group in favor of the program.

Some of the property owners who were against the proposal said they felt the city "was pushing too hard for the program, that it involved too much money, and that it would be more practical to improve parking facilities at a slower pace."

Smart Thing

Proponents of the plan argued that an overall look at the future of the city should be a consideration and that "one of the smartest things the business landlords could do was provide parking facilities for those who wished to shop at home."

The "anti's" suggested that meetings be set up to further discuss the plan, the probable methods of financing, and the feasibility of the total plan.

The off-street parking plan, as drawn up by city manager Robert Noe and city assessor Lial Lake, would provide 304 off-street paved parking spaces in the four block downtown area. The assessment of the individual property owner would be determined by the total square feet utilized in each business.

Assessments in the four block area range from a low of 38 cents to 96 cents per square foot. Assessments could be spread over a five or ten year period, it had been suggested.

Council Divided

Although the city councilmen did not publicly voice their sentiments regarding the parking plan, it appeared obvious that they are divided in their support of the program.

In other business: Council will register a complaint with the Public Service Commission on Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's failure to begin installation work by Apr. 1, as originally promised.

The Company had originally promised they would begin their work Apr. 1 and have it completely finished by October. Council acknowledged that they could expect little reaction by filing a complaint since the Company is involved in a rate hike appeal which is delaying their installation of natural gas facilities in the Manistique area.

Ordinance No. 38 was okayed and will become effective July 1. The Ordinance relates to the platting of lots in the city.

Parade Marks Memorial Day

A Memorial Day parade at 10 a.m. Friday will mark the traditional May 30 observance in Manistique. Services are again under the sponsorship of the All Vets Committee representing the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and World War One Barracks.

Archie Carpenter, All Vets chairman, announced that the parade will begin at 10 o'clock on Fifth St., proceed to the Monument on River St. where a gun salute will be fired, move along River St. to Oak St. to the Memorial Gun on the court house lawn.

An address by a local clergyman will be given on the court house lawn followed by memorial services with the Commanders of all four veterans groups participating.

The parade will be led by the City and Manistique High School bands, the All Vets Color Guard, the Precisionettes, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and National Guard. Any unit or veteran wishing to parade is asked to contact Parade chairman William Cowman. A veteran may take part regardless of whether he or she belongs to a veterans group.

Refreshments will be served after the parade at an Open House at the VFW Hall to which all participating veterans are invited to attend.

MITCHELL MALONE, 11, doesn't let blindness stop him from delivering the Phoenix, Ariz., Gazette.

Paper Boy Has Feel Of Route

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Eleven-year-old Mitchell Malone knows the 35 customers on his evening paper route by their "hedges, fences or how short the grass is cut."

Mitchell also admits he sometimes counts his steps so he'll know exactly where to throw the paper.

Being blind is only a small handicap for him.

During his several months on the job, The Phoenix Gazette said, Mitchell has never received a "kick"—a complaint from a customer who has been missed.

After getting out of his sixth grade class in the afternoon, Mitchell rides the school bus to the spot where he and the other carriers get their papers.

Then he walks his route alone, keeping one foot on grass and the other on the sidewalk.

"I know the houses by hedges, fences or how short the grass is cut," he said. "I also count my steps some times."

At one house he puts the paper in a mail box. There's a dog inside the fenced yard.

"The dog's a good friend of mine," Mitchell said. "But he doesn't like newspapers. He chews 'em up."

Mitchell, who has been blind since a brain tumor was removed at age 6, does have one problem. Like other carrier boys in his suburban area, he likes to ride a bicycle.

When his mother, Mrs. Neal Malone, recently caught him on a bike, the paperboy found himself in the doghouse.

Detroit Symphony Makes Progress

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiators for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the Detroit Federation of Musicians made some progress on noneconomic issues in bargaining for a new contract Tuesday, an orchestra spokesman said.

The old contract, under which musicians were paid a minimum of $205 a week, expired April 30. Since that time, a two-week engagement in Detroit schools has been canceled as a result of the dispute.

Federation officials have stated they will not perform without a contract. The next scheduled orchestra appearance is a two-week engagement for the State Fairgrounds series, which is slated to begin June 12.

The musicians union rejected late in April a symphony offer of a $30-a-week raise over three years.

Ferris Site Of Peace Rally

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Some 250 black and white Ferris State College students held a peaceful rally on campus Tuesday in support of an effort to unite the two races, which have clashed in several incidents during the past three months.

The rally at Taggart Stadium was part of the drive initiated last Thursday by Ron Sneed of Grand Rapids, president of the NAACP student college chapter, and Jerry Nielsen, president of the all-college student government.

The drive has as its motto "I've had it. Let's start living and working together now." It's printed on thousands of ribbons which students and Big Rapids area residents have been wearing.

At the rally, Nielsen and Sneed spoke briefly on steps that have been taken to ease racial tensions.

On May 20, 13 students were arrested during a bottle and rock-throwing fight between black and white students. One person was exonerated, however, and the remaining 12 were arraigned in district court on unlawful assembly charges. Their cases are pending.

Hood Latches Cause Recall

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. recalled 382,000 standard sized Fords and Mercury Cougars Tuesday for inspection and possible replacement of hood latches which the firm said could fly open when the cars are in motion.

All were 1969 models. Ford said that some of the latches have been produced with insufficient clearance between parts. A spokesman said the condition could cause the main latch to bind, interfering with complete closing.

The firm said no accidents are known to have occurred as a result of the defect.

Altogether, the company said, it is looking for 250,000 defective latches which were manufactured by a supplier. About 354,000 of the cars were sold in the U.S., 26,000 in Canada and 2,300 in overseas markets.

Inspection and replacement were to be carried out at no cost to the buyers of the vehicles.

Expos Hold Longest 1969 Losing Streak

By The Associated Press
Montreal fans aren't asking much of the Expos. That's what they're getting—not much.

What 21,412 got Tuesday night—one year from the date the club was accepted into the National League—was a chance to see the Expos lose 5-3 to Los Angeles for their 11th straight defeat, longest losing streak in the majors this season.

"They don't want a lot," Manager Gene Mauch said of the Montreal fans. "They just want a little. That's about what we're giving them, too."

Pistons Fire Former Coach

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, who named Bill van Breda Kolff new head coach last Wednesday, made another staff change Tuesday by firing chief scout and former coach Donnis Butcher effective in September when his contract expires.

"We regret to make this move," said Pistons general manager Edwin E. Coil. "But in revamping our team staff, we are no longer in position to retain Donnis on a full-time scouting basis."

Paul Seymour, who took over the coaching duties from Butcher in December, was named as scout and adviser on the player-procurement when van Breda Kolff took over. The switch made Butcher expendable.

Butcher came to the Pistons in a trade from New York in 1963-64 and played for 1½ seasons with Detroit before becoming head scout in 1965. He replaced Dave DeBusschere as head coach with eight games remaining in the 1966-67 season.

He posted an overall 52-60 record while with Detroit.

Simpson Seeking Loan Demand For Signature

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — O. J. Simpson has dropped a $500,000 loan demand for signing with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League in the face of a strong defense by Bills' owner Ralph Wilson Jr.

But, Wilson and Simpson, it was reported Tuesday, remained a difficult $400,000 apart after a negotiating session Monday in Detroit.

The money gap sparked a comment from Wilson that he "would consider" trading the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner.

Wilson said Simpson and his signal callers, agent Chuck Barnes and lawyer David Lockwood, made the concession "for an increase of $50,000 in the bonus and salary previously requested."

Simpson, the No. 1 choice in the combined pro football draft, originally requested $600,000 salary and bonus in addition to the loan, it was reported.

The Bills' owner said he had been prepared during Monday's session to increase his original offer, reportedly $250,000, to Simpson.

"But in view of this new demand, which I felt unreasonable, I stood pat except to offer inducements on the basis of performance," he added, however, his terms were not inflexible.

Wilson said his "performance" inducement was rejected by the Simpson group and they brought up the discussion about trading the USC All-American.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said. "I don't know how seriously, but I will give it some thought."

Wilson, according to this year's rules, could trade O. J. only to one of the other nine AFL teams.

Wilson added, however, "When the Simpson negotiators decide to come down to a practical figure I will start to come up as I did Monday."

Buffalo gained the right to talk money with O. J. after winning first choice in the draft, by compiling a 1-12-1 record—worst in professional football last season.

Their second round choice, All American fullback Bill Eynart of Oregon State, signed his contract Saturday, after talking money twice.

While Montreal was giving their boosters little, the Houston Astros were continuing to delight theirs by beating Philadelphia 6-2 for their ninth straight victory and 18th in 22 games in May.

In other National League action, Atlanta edged St. Louis 5-3, San Diego nipped the New York Mets 3-2 and San Francisco shaded the Chicago Cubs 5-4, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Tom Haller's homer did in Montreal, now 11-28. It came with a man on in the sixth and snapped a 3-3 tie. Coco Laboy's sacrifice fly and Gary Sutherland's two-run single had produced three unearned runs in the fifth that gave the Expos a tie.

Wes Parker also homered and got two other hits for the Dodgers.

Doug Rader made the big offensive noise for Houston, clubbing a bases-loaded homer in the bottom of the ninth. Rader's third homer, which gave Don Wilson, who struck out 13, a 5-4 mark, came off Luis Peraza who came on for Philadelphia after Bill Wilson walked the first three Houston batters.

Despite Houston's hot play, the Astros still are in fifth place in the West Division, eight games back of first-place Atlanta, which beat St. Louis behind the hitting of Felipe Alou.

Alou singled in a run, scored another and started a two-run fifth inning with another hit. Pat Jarvis, who won his fourth straight for a 5-2 record, yielded an RBI single to Lou Brock and Joe Torre's eighth homer, and relief pitcher Cecil Upshaw also was touched for a homer by the Cards' Bob Johnson.

Al Santorini yielded 12 hits but managed to stagger through to his first victory since April 18 as San Diego downed the Mets, who suffered their fifth consecutive loss.

Roberto Pena singled in the winning run for San Diego and Ollie Brown produced the other two with a homer and single.

He posted an overall 52-60 record while with Detroit.

Wilson said his "performance" inducement was rejected by the Simpson group and they brought up the discussion about trading the USC All-American.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said. "I don't know how seriously, but I will give it some thought."

Wilson, according to this year's rules, could trade O. J. only to one of the other nine AFL teams.

Wilson added, however, "When the Simpson negotiators decide to come down to a practical figure I will start to come up as I did Monday."

Buffalo gained the right to talk money with O. J. after winning first choice in the draft, by compiling a 1-12-1 record—worst in professional football last season.

Their second round choice, All American fullback Bill Eynart of Oregon State, signed his contract Saturday, after talking money twice.

Buffalo gained the right to talk money with O. J. after winning first choice in the draft, by compiling a 1-12-1 record—worst in professional football last season.

The Bills' owner said he had been prepared during Monday's session to increase his original offer, reportedly $250,000, to Simpson.

"But in view of this new demand, which I felt unreasonable, I stood pat except to offer inducements on the basis of performance," he added, however, his terms were not inflexible.

Angels Get New Manager; End 10-Game Loss String

By The Associated Press
New skipper Lefty Phillips, with all modesty, will contend it was just a coincidence, but nevertheless the California Angels' ship has finally righted itself.

With Phillips at the helm for the first time since taking over for fired manager Bill Rigney earlier in the day, the listing Angels ended a 10-game losing streak with a 2-1 victory over Cleveland Tuesday night.

"We waited for the ship to right itself and it finally became time that a decision had to be made," General Manager Dick Walsh had said when he let Rigney go with a 11-28 record 12½ games out of first place in the American League's West Division.

It might only be a short successful voyage with the Angels keeling over again, but the Angels must be satisfied with even a one-game winning streak at the moment.

While the Angels sailed in winners, several others broke losing streaks—and winning skeins.

Oakland won for the first time in seven games with a 4-3 victory over Detroit, which had its three-game winning string ended, and Washington shattered its six-game losing streak and Minnesota's four-game winning run with a 5-1 triumph over the Twins.

The New York Yankees, after losing three straight, beat the Chicago White Sox 5-3 and Seattle ended Baltimore's five-game winning streak with an 8-1 rout over the Orioles. Kansas City won its fourth in a row with a 5-4 decision over Boston.

One of the first things Phillips did was insert Bubba Morton into the Angels' lineup in left field and Morton quickly got them started on the right course with a second inning double. He scored on Lou Johnson's double.

After singles by loser Sam McDowell, 3-6, Larry Brown and Lee Maye tied the game for Cleveland in the fifth, California scored the clincher in the seventh.

Rick Reichardt, moved from left field to first base by Phillips, beat out a bouncer and Morton walked before Johnson looped the winning run-scoring hit to center field.

Hoyt Wilhelm, in relief of Jim McGlothlin, 4-3, blanked the Indians the last two innings and the Angels were home free.

Barry Moore, 3-1, scattered six hits in his first complete game in 27 starts since 1967 and only the third by a Washington pitcher this season. Brant Alyea backed with a homer and a single for three runs.

Mel Stottlemyre of the Yankees, who has lost three times, became the first eighth game winner in the major leagues when he slugged a two-run tie-breaking homer with two out in the eighth inning off Wilbur Wood. His single also helped the Yankees take a 3-2 lead in the seventh.

With Roy Oyler, Mike Hegan and Gerry McNertney hitting solo homers behind him, Gene Brabender, 2-3, breezed past his former Baltimore teammates with a seven-hit effort for Seattle. Tom Phoebus, driven out in a five-run fifth, lost for the first time in six decisions as the Orioles dropped only their second game in 12 outings. The hot Pilots have won 12 of 16.

Jackie Hernandez capped a rally of three unearned runs in the seventh inning with a bloop two-run single that brought Kansas City from behind. Boston had held a 4-2 lead on Reggie Smith's three-run homer.

McMahon, owner of the winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, who changed his mind a week ago about shipping his unbeaten colt back to California and instead vanned him to Belmont from Pimlico.

McMahon and Longden had said after the Preakness at Pimlico that they were passing up the Belmont Stakes, the last leg in the famed Triple Crown, which no horse has won since Citation did it in 1948.

McMahon changed his mind a few days later and said Majestic Prince would be given a chance to win the Triple Crown "if he is ready and able to run in the Belmont."

The Belmont at 1½ miles is the longest and considered the sternest test of the Triple Crown classics. It long has been known as The Test of Champions.

Majestic Prince worked a sharp five furlongs in 58.2-5 seconds at the Long Island track Tuesday and galloped out six furlongs in 1:11.1-5.

Lolich Hit On Arm; Tigers Lose To A's

OKLAND (AP) — Losing to Oakland was bad enough, but the worst medicine the Detroit Tigers had to take was in the fifth inning when their World Series hero, Mickey Lolich, was hit on the left elbow.

Lolich was forced to leave the game Tuesday night, when a liner off the bat of Oakland's Danny Cater bounced off his arm, allowing the tying 3-3 run to come in.

The A's went on to win with a homer by Sal Bando in the seventh, 4-3, and Lolich went to Merritt Hospital for X-rays.

There were no broken bones, but Lolich's arm was badly bruised. The southpaw hurler, who won three games as Detroit conquered St. Louis in last year's World Series, has had a fine start this year, boasting a 6-1 record.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith said he would learn later if Lolich would miss a pitching turn. The Oakland A's also won the first round of the Bay area attendance battle with rival San Francisco.

An announced crowd of 7,272 watched the A's and 6,608 paid to see the Giants across the Bay at Candlestick Park.

It was the first direct conflict in scheduling between the two teams.

With Bando's help, Oakland won Tuesday night's game the same way they had lost the previous six—by the margin of one run.

Bando said: "I don't know if it was a bad pitch by McMahon. It looked all right to me. I knew it was out of the park as soon as I hit it."

The ball landed in the left field bleachers, 370 feet from the plate.

Smith Pitches Flat Rock Over Teamsters, 7-1

Flat Rock and the Escanaba Merchants remained undefeated after two games in the Escanaba Softball League by scoring victories in a pair of games played last night at Memorial Field.

Flat Rock upended the defending champion Teamsters, 7-1, behind the one-hit pitching of Bill Smith. Smith struck out 11 Teamster batters while walking three.

Bill Groleau, a 20-game winner last season, suffered his first defeat of the season for the Teamsters. John Landre managed to stroke the lone hit off Smith.

Hitting stars for Flat Rock were Neils Thompson and Jim Micheau. Thompson had a home run and a double and Micheau rapped out a pair of singles.

In the other game, the Merchants used 3-hit pitching by Bill McGovern to bombard the Jolly Roger, 11-4. The victory was the first of the season for McGovern.

Bob Corriveau led the Merchants at the plate with two doubles and a single and Wally Flath and Jan Morin chipped in with two singles each. The only hits off McGovern were singles by Denny Erickson and Jug Bourdeau and a double by Phil Dambrosia. Bourdeau took the loss for the Jolly Roger.

Games tonight will find Martine's Stars playing the Mead Jrs. in a Junior League game at 6:30 and Trenary will battle the Michigan Hotel in the nightcap at 8.

Con's Clubbers put on a surge last night at the Highland Golf Club that almost put them in first place in the Twilight League standings.

Con Pratt's team picked up 8½ of a possible 12 points to come within ½ point of the league leading Mel's Medicare team.

Top scorer for the evening was Ward Steinert with a 37. He also shot a 41 to give him an 18-hole total of 78. Earl Koch, Con Pratt and Jerry Sundquist all had 39's for runnerup honors. Koch also had a 41 on his second nine.

Other top scores were turned in by Jim Schultz, Jack Smith, Dave Friets, Dick Nelson and Vial Smith, all with 40's, and Paul DeBen, John Duca and Marv Palmgren with 41's.

League standings: Mel's Medicare 17½; Con's Clubbers 17; Doug's Dubbers 16½; Smit's Snackers 16; W.R.'s, Mor-Strokes and Pussfoot's 15½; Barney's Beavers and Has Beens 12; Jerry's Jets 11½; Boye Men 9½; Dave's Demons 8½; Pinky's Putters 6½; Free Swingers and Wertz's Watusis 6 and Ding-A-Lings 5½.

Mickey Lolich

Cater drove in two other Oakland runs and Mickey Stanley drove in a pair for Detroit.

D-bson struck out only two batters as he evened his record at 4-4. The second strikeout victim was dangerous Bill Freeman, the final batter in the game.

"That's always a good way to end things," Dobson said. "I was nervous in the early part of the game, but settled down."

The Tigers loaded the bases with no outs in the second inning, but Dobson got out of it with only one run scored when Don Wert hit into a double play and Lolich struck out.

The A's and Tigers meet again today with Earl Wilson, 3-4, pitching for Detroit and John O'Brien, 7-2, for Oakland.

Nixon's Election Plan Has S. Viet Cautious

SAIGON (AP) — Growing concern was evident in South Vietnam's parliament and the Saigon press today about President Nixon's call for elections as part of his eight-point Vietnam peace proposal.

In his May 14 Vietnam policy speech, Nixon proposed elections "as soon as possible" after an international body was functioning to supervise a mutual withdrawal of U.S., North Vietnamese and other foreign troops from the South.

The elections would be held under "agreed procedures" and under supervision of the international body, Nixon said. The United States is "prepared to accept any government in South Vietnam that results from the free choice of the South Vietnamese people themselves."

Evidence Of Doubt

A speech by Sen. Tran Van Don today was evidence of the increasing doubts about how the elections proposed by Nixon would conform with government policy and the constitution.

Don, a prominent lawmaker who as a general helped overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963, noted that Nixon's election proposal differs from President Nguyen Van Thieu's statement April 7 that the Viet Cong could "enjoy full political rights" under the constitution—meaning they could vote—if they respect the laws.

The constitution mentions nothing about troop withdrawals or an international supervisory body, but it lays down a clear schedule for parliamentary and presidential elections. Half the seats in the Senate will be up for election in late 1970, and the next lower house and presidential elections are scheduled for late 1971. Altering the election dates would require a change in the constitution.

Forcing Them

Don told the Senate that the Nixon plan "has aroused much concern among the Vietnamese population."

Increasing numbers of South Vietnamese officials and observers seem to feel that new elections will be forced on them and that the result will be a coalition government including the Viet Cong.

The newspaper Hoa Binh (Peace) said: "The U.S. has so far made many concessions and has many times changed its tactical position. The government of South Vietnam, too, has many times shown its 'good will for peace,' but President Thieu knows where he should stop. We cannot allow the Communists to participate in the chess game we have been operating."

Milliken Announces Low Cost Housing Plan

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken today asked Michigan's mayors to join the search for better ways to build low cost housing.

"It is clear that we cannot afford to wait for federal programs to solve the problem alone," Milliken told the mayors. "The most significant federal program—FHA—became a means for upper and middle income families to acquire housing, although its intent was to assist families at all income levels."

Milliken has termed his program "Operation Breakthrough."

"Operation Breakthrough will provide a start toward providing housing for all income levels through a partnership of labor, consumer, private enterprise and local state and federal government—with the use of modern techniques of production, marketing and management," the Governor said.

The meeting with many of the state's mayors was described by the executive office as a follow-up to Milliken's recent talks with George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, and governors of 14 large states to discuss the housing problem.

"In Michigan during the next 10 years," Milliken said, "we will face a demand of 73,600 homes annually. Presently we are constructing approximately 44,000 annually, which leaves a gap of 29,600 per year."

"Even now we have about 166,000 dilapidated or deteriorating units and I have reason to believe this is a conservative estimate. I think it is interesting that approximately half of these units are in Michigan's rural, outstate areas," he said.

He urged mayors to identify market areas free of zoning restrictions that could be used for prototype construction.

"We still turn out housing units from a centuries-old pattern," he said. "We do it too slowly, with too much expensive hand-crafting on the site under antiquated public regulations."

Rock School Band Performs In Concert

The Rock High School band concert was held at the Rock School gym Sunday evening, May 25 under the direction of John Violette. In addition to the regular band numbers, a special feature was presented by the sax trio, consisting of Patricia Waak, Susan Laitinen, and Annette Kulack, accompanied on the piano by Carolyn Kulack.

After the performance, the band members presented conductor Violette with a gift, in honor of his organizing the band in the spring of 1966 and being its conductor since that time. Mothers of the band members served lunch after the concert.

After the organization of the band, a Band Boosters club was formed and money was raised to purchase blazers for the members. At present money is needed to buy timpani drums.

The band has about 50 members and practices once a week. It performs for school activities, band festivals, Memorial and Labor Day parades, but its biggest thrill was participation in the 1969 Upper Peninsula Band and Orchestra Festival in Escanaba on April 19 when it received excellent ratings.

Board Finalizes Allocation Order

The Delta County Tax Allocation Board Tuesday night, with one exception, gave final approval to its preliminary allocation order.

The exception was the additional .2 mill added to Brampton Township, raising the township to .95 mill. Brampton's school allocation was lowered accordingly from 8.95 mills to 8.75.

By a 4 to 2 vote, the Board approved the order, which calls for one mill each for Cornell and Ford River Townships, a half mill more than last year.

The half mill given to the townships reduces the Escanaba Area school district allocation from 9.2 mills to 8.7, the same as all other school districts in the county.

Wells Township, because of its size and greater sales tax rebates, did not request any allocated millage.

Aside from the change in the Escanaba schools, the final allocation nearly duplicated the 1968 allocation.

Delta County received 5.2 mills for operation of county government.

All townships, with the exception of Wells, Nahma and Fairbanks, received one mill. The three townships that did not receive millage did not request a millage allocation.

The Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District received an allocation of .1 mill.

Except for Brampton Township schools, all school districts will get 8.7 mills.

Board chairman Fred Saykally said that all allocations are final unless one of the units makes an appeal.

Voting at the meeting were: Cecil Chase, representative for the City of Escanaba; George Nelson, Delta County representative; Walter McClintock, Intermediate School District representative; Albin Pearson Jr., representative of the largest school district (Escanaba Area) in county; Myrtle Ottensman, county treasurer; and Fred Saykally, chairman and delegate at large.

Brookridge Fund Grows

About $1,600 has been received to date in Delta County in the public fund raising drive to raise money to pay for improvements at Brookridge, a home for emotionally disturbed children scheduled to open in mid-July at Marquette to serve children of Delta, Marquette and Alger counties.

Edward Berg of the Tri-County Mental Health Compact said Delta County's share of the project is $12,000.

He noted two contributions of $100 each have been received locally, from the Escanaba Women's Club and from Pulp & Sulfide Workers Local 110 at the Escanaba Paper Co.

Berg said contributions should be mailed to Post Office Box 612, Escanaba.

Dr. Jane Chapman of Marquette, program director at Brookridge, said a staff of 14 persons will be employed in the "core program" to supervise 15 children.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark of Marquette have been employed as houseparents to reside at the home.

The staff also will include counselors, social service coordinator, special education coordinator, special education teacher, psychiatric consultant, activities director, maintenance supervisor, cook, housekeeper and laundress. Medical consultation also will be provided.

Children to be accepted at Brookridge must be under 12 years of age and need residential care stemming from severe behavioral disturbance, if residential care away from family and school life is considered the best treatment plan for the child in light of existing community resources, said Dr. Chapman.

Ojibway Council Rejects Duplex Housing Program

L'ANSE — The Ojibway Housing Authority of the Keweenaw Bay Tribal Council has rejected a government plan for duplex housing, voting instead for individual units for the community.

George Curtis, council chairman, said plans were made at the meeting to advertise for new housing developers to submit proposals within the next three weeks. The proposals would be for a 33-unit housing development, reported Curtis.

"This project has been in the planning stages for the last four years," said Curtis. "We want to start seeing some results."

The tribe voiced the same opinion as Curtis and decided to ask for assistance from the housing office in Chicago. The housing office is a division of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), a federal agency.

The tribe is planning a 33-unit project to be developed on two separate sites. Twenty units are being planned for Baraga and 13 units will be erected in Zeba, explained Curtis. He also said that both sites

Space Officials Defend Program

Thousands of circuits can be compressed into a case smaller than a quarter.

What about the future?

Just as advance warnings from hurricane-hunting weather satellites have provided time for preparations that have saved countless lives, observations from earth-resources spacecraft to be launched in 1971 could reveal potential hazards such as landslide areas and fault zones.

Manned earth-orbiting space stations planned for the 1970s will test plans for later orbiting laboratories which—funds permitting—could perform many manufacturing tasks not possible on earth.

Bank Bandits Use Tear Gas

ROMULUS (AP) — Police today were seeking three armed men who escaped with about $15,000 from a bank after tear gassing a half-dozen employees and customers.

Police said the men herded the customers and employees of the Wyandotte Savings Bank in Romulus into a men's room at gunpoint, then sprayed the room with tear gas.

They took the money that was not locked in the vault and fled.
